FOREWORD

To find refuge from busy life, delve into great thoughts and jokes of this book, take a ride through the centuries of the best phrases in humanity's existence. The ideas presented here are worth of thousands years of experience, and they are applicable for everyone today. It is an instruction to humans on how to live with a sense. More than ten thousand quotes and aphorisms have been included into this book. About a quarter of the sayings are humorous, and they are placed at the end of each subsection.

Some quotes have been changed a little (by me or other people) to make their meaning deeper. I've always tried to indicate this fact in brackets after a quote. Some authors of quotations may be cited differently from other sources due to differences of opinion on this issue. All in all, in your hands you hold the result of years of scrupulous work.

I express gratitude to all those authors whose material I've used, thank you for the treasure. I hope you will find inspiration in it day by day. Search for and find the keys to yourself!

LIFE AND TIME

I.I.I. ABOUT LIFE

Running is the greatest metaphor for life because you get as much from it as you invest in it.

In every person's life there are two most important days: the first one is when he was born, and the second one is when he realized what for.

The great art of living is to play a lot but risk a little.

The whole world is a theatre, we are all involuntarily actors, an omnipotent Fate distributes roles, and heaven watches our game.

To take everything from life is to give it entirely to yourself.

You created the time, and the time could not pass until you created it. If there was no time at all before the heaven and the earth, why should you ask what you did then. When there was no time, there was no "then".

All the life is a risk management, not a risk elimination.

Each period of life has its own value.

There are only two forms of life: decay and burning.

Short is the moment between the past and the future, which is the instant that is called life!

Life is an album. A person is a pencil, while his or her business is a landscape. Time is an elastic gum - it bounces and erases.

Life is a mountain - you climb slowly and go down quickly.

Life is like a play in a theatre - what matters is not how long it lasts, but how well it is played.

Life is nothing but a long series of efforts to bring happiness to yourself.

Life is a candle in the wind.

Life is far too important a thing ever to talk seriously about.

Life is a journey, not a home.

Life is a sum of troubles that give a feeling of joy for being.

Life is a rude thing. If you've started this journey, you'll definitely slip, and you'll get stabbed, and you'll fall, and you'll get tired, and you'll exclaim, "I'd better die!" and, therefore, you'll lie.

Life is looking in different mirrors in search for its own face.

Life is not something, but only a possibility of something.

Life is almost a continuous chain of your own discoveries.

Life is a solo on the violin in front of an audience, you only learn to play during the performance.

Life is what happens to us while we are making other plans for future.

Life is the series of decisions we make.

Life is outrageous when you think about it, and it's beautiful when you live it.

Life is no brief candle to me, it is a sort of splendid torch which I have got a hold of for the moment, that I want to make burn as brightly as I can before passing it on to future generations.

Life is a movement from desire to desire, and not from possession to possession.

Life has its charm when it solely consists of alternating joys and sorrows, fight between good and evil, battle of light and shadow, in other words, diversity in a unity.

Life is like a merrymaking. Some come to compete, others come to trade, and the happiest of all come to watch.

Life itself is neither good nor evil, but only a place for good and evil, depending on what they turn it into.

Life is not about finding yourself. Life is about creating yourself.

To live means to change, to change means to grow up, and to grow up means to constantly create yourself.

The art of living is to embody the subtlest life of soul into a life of body.

The art of living demands not only choosing the right train, but getting off at the right station.

When you like a flower, you pluck it. But if you love a flower, you water it daily. One, who understands this, understands life.

The world is a lottery of wealth, titles, honours and rights sought without any reason and distributed without any choice.

The world can be compared with a chessboard – either day or night. And what about pawns? – Just you and me. We are pushed, squeezed and beaten, and put into a dark box to rest.

In our life we find solely what we invest in it.

We are born mortal, and we are in power of death from birth.

Our life is a river flowing into the sea.

Our life has an experimental manner.

Our biggest success in life consists in fertilization of an egg cell by our sperm cell and not by three hundred million others.

Life fest paradox: how many people are cheerful under a table, and how many people are bored at a table.

Our real life is when we are alone with ourselves, we deal only with our thoughts.

The salt of life is in search for something new.

To be able to enjoy your spent life means to live twice.

Human life is like a box with matches. It is ridiculous to treat it seriously. It is dangerous to treat it frivolously.

I realized that life is worth nothing, but I also realized that nothing is worth life.

Nothing is promised to you in your life. No agreement is signed with you.

All life is a path to a single phrase "I love you," with further running away from it.

Sometimes it seems you cannot live in this world, but if you drink, living becomes possible!

Life is a struggle against fools.

Life is a quarantine at the entrance to paradise.

Life is a severe test, and the first hundred years are the hardest.

When I hear someone sigh and say, "Life is hard," it always tempts me to ask, "Compared to what?"

The natural rhythm of human life is a routine punctuated by orgies.

The worst thing in life is that it passes away.

An average person, who does not know what to do with his or her life, dreams of another one which would last forever.

What we call life is usually just a to-do list for today.

I think that a better world than ours would be worse than our world as a more successful combination of elements would result in more significant disadvantages.

I will not refuse to live my life again from beginning to end. I will only ask the right used by authors to correct the second edition from errors present in the first one.

1.1.2. MEANING OF LIFE

There is no meaning to life except the meaning that a man gives his life by the unfolding of his powers.

There is something infantile in a presumption that somebody else (parents in case of children, God in case of an adult) has a responsibility to give meaning and point to your life. It reminds the infantilism of those who look around for someone to sue at the moment they twist their ankle.

Life has no meaning. The living things appeared under the influence of conditions which were part of the planet's history, and as there had been a life beginning in it, so there definitely would be an end under the influence of other conditions. A man (being not more significant than other forms of life) had come not as the climax of creation but as a physical reaction to the environment.

For, if life was meaningless, the world was robbed of its cruelty.

Three grand essentials in this life are: something to do, something to love and something to hope for.

What we get from this adventure is just sheer joy. And joy is, after all, the end of life. We do not live to eat and make money. We eat and make money to be able to live. That is what life means and what life is for.

The meaning of life is in achievement of its purpose, the purpose of life is in making it meaningful.

The meaning of life is the goals that make you value it.

Labor is the fundamental condition of life, wisdom is the goal, and happiness is the reward.

The aim of life is self-development. To realize your nature perfectly, that is what each of us is here for.

The ABC of life is all the way from "A" to "Z", but what about "I"?

What an enormous blindness, what a miserable self-delusion of insignificant nature creatures, living pipsqueaks, flying on a bit of the world dirt, who, being born meaninglessly and dying in an instant, dreams about meaning of his or her life.

Not everything is lost as long as there is something to lose.

1.1.3. LIFE AND ITS LOGIC

There is no love of life without despair of life.

The happiest life is to be without thought.

The bliss of life always coincides with the end of its reasonability.

Life is like being at the dentist. You always think the worst is still to come though it is already over.

There is nothing irrecoverable in life because nothing is important.

Nothing comes for free in life. The point is that you shouldn't overpay.

At the end, it's not the years in your life that are important, but the life in your years.

At twenty a man is a peacock, at thirty a lion, at forty a camel, at fifty a snake, at sixty a dog, at seventy an ape, at eighty just nothing at all.

Everything is beautiful only as long as it does not concern us. Life is never beautiful, but only the pictures of life are so in a transfiguring mirror of art or poetry.

Everything flows, everything changes.

Even when life is terrible, the world is beautiful.

A man has two worlds: the one that created us, and the other that we create from the time immemorial to the best of our ability.

Money makes life more comfortable although does not replace it.

If you have observed the revolution of the four seasons, they comprehend the infancy, the youth, the virility and the old age of the world. The year has played its part, and it knows no other art but to begin again.

The life of each person is a diary in which he or she is going to write one story, and, in fact, writes another one.

Life seems horrible when it is measured by its happiness.

Life is ten percent what happens to you, and ninety percent how you react to what happens to you.

Life does not stop being funny when people die, and it does not stop to be serious when people laugh.

Life is like a theatre, often very bad people occupy the best seats.

Life is really finest when it's tragic.

In truth, life revolves around a person's preoccupation with themselves.

Life creates order, but order does not create life.

Life is like an onion: you peel off layer after layer, and then you find there is nothing in it.

And only with the years you realize that it doesn't matter what car you have, but that you have places to go and people waiting for you.

Each person lives their own life and pays their own price for living it.

Without events there is no life itself.

Those who have been beaten will achieve more in their lives. Those who have tasted the bitterness of life appreciate sweetness. Those who have shed tears can laugh heartily. Those who have faced death know what it means to truly live.

Whoever owns the moment, owns life.

To love something more than life is to make life something more than it is.

Love and money rule the world.

People of nature can be idle, people of education can be restless; the former enjoy life, the latter pursue it.

A person bears full responsibility for their life, not only for their actions but also for their failures to act.

We only exist when we do not conform to scenarios.

The world is a comedy to those that think, a tragedy to those that feel.

Our lives always reflect the outcome of our dominant thoughts.

Our lives are like trees in the forest that commingle their roots in the dark underground.

You can live on even if the poppy harvest fails.

There is nothing permanent except change.

One person is a creator of his or her destiny, and another one is its creation.

The conditions of life might include error.

The first hour that gave us life took away also an hour.

How many things can I do without?

Those at a very tender age see the entire life ahead of them, those at a very old age see the entire life behind them, and those who are between are so busy with life that they don't see anything.

To be is to feel, for feelings shall prevail over reason.

There is no happy life, there are only happy days.

So is it worth it to dream of an immaculate life in the world where everything is shaky like smoke and fragile, everything is changeable like wind and wave.

Whether the life events are good or bad depends a lot on how we perceive them.

The circus artists will tell you that it is the hardest to juggle objects of uneven weight, when some are very light and others are very heavy. But after all, this is what you are doing your entire life.

In nasty moments of life I wish I had the function to "Restore previously saved version".

Everything is possible except what is impossible, but it also sometimes happens.

Life begins after forty for some people, for others it begins after one hundred millilitres.

Life can be split into two phases: first, there is no brain, then, there is no health.

Life of every person could become a frame for an unparalleled and fascinating novel if there would not be the same beginning, common plot and a trite ending.

Life is short, but boredom makes it longer. No life is short enough for boredom to find its place.

Life is beautiful, you just need to choose the right antidepressants.

Living on Earth, perhaps, is a little expensive, but you get a free annual cruise around the sun.

Think to yourself that every day is your last one.

When I was born, I was so surprised that I didn't talk for a year and a half.

The world gets better every day, then worse again in the evening.

One of the most difficult transitions is the transition from a good-looking life to a good life.

To make the story of his own life, every person adds small legends.

1.1.4. DOWNSIDES

"A life full of pleasures" does not mean "a life full of idleness."

Most of all, I regret that impulsiveness has disappeared from my life.

What a small limit the life of many people is fit to.

Life can be hated only because of apathy and laziness.

Take each day separately and there will not be a single unfilled, put them together and you will be amazed to see how empty they are.

We all want to live in a perfect world, but each of us waits others to make this world perfect.

Appreciate even bitter days of life, for they are gone forever too.

A wicked life leads to a wicked death.

If you fill your ears with Walkman headphones and your eyes with soft soap of television, you may end up understanding nothing in life in a hundred years.

A man had hardly been born, and the death already stands as a master above him.

Life is a fountain of joy, but where the crowd gathers to drink, all wells are poisoned.

Life is a clownage.

Life without a goal leads to personal degradation of an individual, as a rule.

Life stops without a struggle for life.

Does life pass by? Life passes, but death will not pass.

A person's life takes place in the analysis of his past, in complaints about the present, in fear for the future.

Tomorrow, tomorrow, always tomorrow - this is how life goes by.

Filling life is not yet enriching it.

Who managed to use life properly? Who has not lost half of his dreams in either conversations with fools or love in torment, or time wasting?

A light attitude towards life makes it difficult.

People have not learned to respect themselves, and therefore life.

People do not know how to live. They are not taught this.

People spend their whole lives to get what they apparently need for life.

The world is miserable only for a miserable person, the world is empty only for an empty man.

The world is full of beautiful things, but it has become poor in a number of beautiful moments.

We are victims of the twenty-first century plague, though it is not the Black Death but the Gray Life.

We always invent something to pretend that we live.

We are simply a representation of a habit.

A drug addict does not need to work hard for a long time, then to buy a ticket and fly somewhere to enjoy an ocean sunset. And exactly this is what destroys him, not chemicals. The meaning of life consists precisely in these movements on a way to the sunset.

Our life passes in running towards the things we do not have, and in regrets concerning the things we won't have any more.

Do not be afraid that your life may end: be afraid that it will never begin.

The one who changes his place, but does not change his lifestyle and habits, will never improve his fate.

One of the laws of life says that as soon as one door closes, another one opens. But the whole trouble is that we look at the locked door and do not pay attention to the opened one.

Life passes while we put it on a back burner.

While you are saying not the way you think, while you are listening not the way you believe in, and you do things you are not intended for, someone else lives instead of you during this time.

Contempt for life is an absurd feeling because ultimately it is all that we have.

To go through the world and remain imperfect is the same as leaving the bath unwashed.

Emptiness can also fill life to the limit.

The habit of luxury is the saddest thing that can be in life.

Today I let the sun rise earlier than me.

The one who neglects his or her life does not value it.

A man has ruined his stomach, and he complains about lunch. The same thing happens to people who are unhappy with their life.

It happens that we do not want to live, but this does not mean that we want to die.

You have to try doing everything in your life. By "everything" we usually mean gambling, drugs, debauchery, and much less often it will be nuclear physics or mountaineering.

Things which are worse than death may happen in your life. Have you ever spent an evening in company of an insurance agent?

I cherished myself for something great throughout my life, and now I've got a massive heart attack.

Life without packaging weighed nothing.

Life always distracts our attention, and we don't even have time to notice exactly from what.

How easy it is to ruin a person's life! A pebble in a boot, a cockroach in spaghetti, a woman's laugh ...

I feel good in total but bad in particular.

We begin to think about life and money when it comes to an end.

There was something terrible with me tonight – nothing happened.

A session, a holiday break, a session, a holiday break until we finish our studies, and then work, work, work until we die.

1.1.5. DO NOT IGNORE

Save time: this is the fabric from which life is woven.

In life, you must strive to overtake not others, but yourself.

In life must be a pause. Such pauses when nothing happens. When you just sit and look at the World, and the World is watching.

Two goals should be set in life. The first goal is the realization of what you are striving for. The second goal is the ability to rejoice at what has been achieved. Only the wisest representatives of humanity are capable of achieving the second goal.

The greatest use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it.

Take back responsibility for your own life.

Everything is unsteady in life. If everything goes well, enjoy it, for it will not last forever. If everything goes bad, don't worry, it won't last too long.

You cannot do anything to change the length of your life, but you can do something to change its width and depth.

The main thing is to do everything with pleasure, it graces your life significantly.

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving.

The only way to live is to accept each minute as an unrepeatable miracle, which is exactly what it is: a miracle and unrepeatable.

If there is no pleasure in life, then there should be at least some sense.

If you live according to nature, you will never be poor; if you live according to people's opinions, you will never be rich.

If you want to make life smiling for you, give it your good mood first.

You live only once.

Live and let live.

Live every day the way you live your whole life just for this day.

Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever.

Life is a huge supermarket. We can put everything we want in our shopping cart, but we should remember that the checkout is in front, which means we'd have to pay.

Life is short. And you should be able to stop watching a bad movie. Stop reading a bad book. Dump a bad person.

Life should have misfortunes so that it does not turn sour.

Life requires movement.

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year.

The art of living: satisfy hunger while maintaining your appetite.

Every morning, upon waking, you should say, "I see, I hear, I move and I am not in pain. Thank you! Life is lovely."

When a person is uncomfortable to lie on one side - he rolls over to the other, and when he is uncomfortable to live - he only complains. So make an effort: roll over!

Whoever understands life is in no hurry.

Whoever wants bliss in this world, let him be engaged in trade; whoever wants bliss in the other world, let him seek abstinence and piety. Whoever wants bliss in both worlds, let him concentrate on learning and seeking knowledge in addition to the above.

Catch a moment!

You have to look at a day like at a little life.

We must live so that every day we live would seem new.

We should put our lives in such conditions that labor is necessary. Without labor, there cannot be a pure and joyful life.

Start living your life right now the way you want to see it at the end.

Do not forget that everything you possess in this world will be in hands of another person after the day you die. But what you are is yours forever.

Do not envy the one who is strong and rich, after dawn there always comes a sunset. With this short life, equal to a breath, treat yourself with the rental you have.

Changes provide the best spice for life.

The first and most important thing in life is to control yourself.

The most valuable thing life taught me is to regret about nothing.

Follow your way and let people say anything they want.

Look at every morning dawn as at the beginning of your life, and at every sunset look as at the end of it. May each of these short lives be marked by some good deed, some kind of victory over oneself or acquired knowledge.

Keep love in your heart. A life without it is like a sunless garden when the flowers are dead.

Strive for a goal, but do not forget to live today.

Dance like nobody's watching. Love like you've never been hurt. Sing like nobody's listening. Live like it's heaven on earth.

Your life is the fruit of your own doing. You have no one to blame but yourself.

Respect the current hour and day. Respect every single minute, for it will pass and never happen again ...

So that life does not seem unbearable, you need to accustom yourself to two things: the wounds that time inflicts, and the injustices that people repair.

To go your own way in the world, it is useful to take with you a large margin of forethought and indulgence: the first will protect us from sorrows and losses, the second, from disputes and quarrels.

A sense of humor is a great thing. Going through life without a sense of humor is just as ridiculous as riding in a wagon without springs.

What is life but a series of inspired follies? The difficulty is to find them to do. Never lose a chance: it doesn't come every day.

Let us endeavor so to live so that when we come to die, even the undertaker will be sorry.

If it seems to you that you need to change something in this life, then it does not seem to you.

The art of living is living in spite of the absence of life.

Live as if this day is the last one, and one day it will happen. And you will be fully armed.

Live, love, enjoy. After all, you never know when you ...

Surely there is a place where we will live better, but so far it is here.

Do not take everything from life - why do you need so much trouble?!

Don't go to sleep, so many people die there.

It is good if your clothes have no holes. And it's not a sin to think of daily bread. And all the rest is not necessary at all - life is more valuable than all the wealth and honours.

Do not take life too seriously. You will never get out of it alive.

1.2.1. TIME

An insane takes comfort in the past, an idiot in the future, an intelligent in the present.

The future is something towards which each of us rushes at a speed of 60 minutes per hour.

The future always seems better than the present.

Time is a precious gift given to us to be smarter, better and more mature.

The happier time, the quicker it passes.

Time loves nobody, and it does not hate anyone, time is not indifferent to anyone - it carries everyone away.

Time approaches slowly and leaves quickly.

Yesterday is a history, tomorrow is a mystery, but today is a gift!

Year is a horse that races at a gallop, but in small steps.

The past day is always better than the present.

If it were possible to see into the future just as we know the past, then the day of death would seem as close as our past, for example, as close as our childhood.

Even the longest day ends quickly.

Dreams and memories, the future and the past, these are only decorations for the present.

Minutes are long, but years are fleeting.

The Present is the living sum-total of the whole Past.

The present is saturated with the past and pregnant with the future.

Unexpectedness is a necessary part of life, for if we could know the future for sure, it would become the past.

There is no past or future; everything is happening in the eternal present.

There have never been those good old days.

The past is an object of our memory, and the future is an object of our expectations.

The past kept in mind is a part of the present.

If there is a future, it is easy to break up with the past.

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.

The future has got several names. The impossibility is the name of the future for a weak-willed person. The unknown is for a faint-hearted. The ideal is for a wise.

A smiling futurity looks like a picturesque landscape: all the charm disappears when penetrating into it.

Only the present belongs to a human, neither the past nor the future: the past is gone, and nobody knows whether the future will come.

I was afraid of wasting my time until I realized that life is what's happening right now. Everything else is not the time. The time is right now.

Time you enjoy wasting was not wasted.

We all live on the account of the future. Not surprisingly, it expects bankruptcy.

If all the past was present, and the present continued to exist side by side with the future, then who would be able to recognize where the causes and where the consequences are.

You never realize how short a month is until you pay alimony.

The past will not return. At least return the faith in future!

The most surprising thing in future is a thought that our time will be called the good old days.

Three in the afternoon is too early or too late for anything.

I was, I am, I will be is a problem of grammar, but not of existence.

1.2.2. ABOUT BAD TIMES

The future abducts our present, and dreaming steals reality.

The future disturbs us, and the past holds us. That is why the present escapes from us.

The memory of lost always seems higher than what we can expect from the future.

Time is money (lost time is never found again).

Time is what we want most, but what we use worst.

You say that time goes by. You are passing by, madmen.

If you do not think about your future, you cannot have one.

Was there anyone ever who was able to value the time?

Most people live mainly in the present, people like that are thoughtless; others live in the future, they are fearful and disturbed. It is rare for people to comply with measure.

Nobody gives away property of his or her own accord, but everyone willingly shares time with his or her fellow beings. Although, prudence is useful and worthy of praise with regard only to the latter.

Until the past has not passed, there will be no future.

The biggest waste is the waste of time.

He who looks back often does not deserve his future.

The humankind lives for the future. The instruments are always tuned, but the beginning of the concert is not foreseen.

The future is not what it used to be.

If you postpone everything till tomorrow, you may not live to see it.

To know the past is quite unpleasant, to know the future in addition would be unbearable.

Between the murky past and the promising future, our gloomy present flows.

Only think about tomorrow, and this day is already the day before yesterday.

1.2.3. RECOMMENDATIONS ON TIME

Keep track of every day, bear in mind every minute wasted! Time is the only thing where stinginess is praiseworthy.

Think of the past as of a dream ... And it will stop bothering you.

If a caterpillar held onto the past, it would never become a butterfly.

If you want to change the world, start with yourself.

Yoga is the effort to experience one's divinity personally, and then to hold on to that experience forever.

Who is the most important person, what is the most important time? The most important person is the one with whom you are speaking at the moment, the most important time is the one in which you live now.

Do not be the slave of your own past.

Therefore, do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

Do not blight the present cause of frustrated hopes in the past or constant concerns for the future.

Do not dwell in the past, do not dream of the future, concentrate the mind on the present moment.

Look not mournfully into the past, it comes not back again. Wisely improve the present, it is thine.

Do not squander time. That is the stuff life is made of.

The present is the only reality and the only certainty. Thus, it should be treated carefully and with conscious enjoyment every single minute free from troubles and pain.

Put your head down in front of the past, roll up your sleeves in front of the future.

The past is already beyond our control, but the future depends on us.

The past should be used as a flame for lightning the future.

Use the current time not to blame yourself in your old age for the youthfulness lived in vain.

Know the value of today, although it is little. Yesterday has passed, but tomorrow has not come yet.

Life is beautiful! ... If you do not think of the past and do not think of the future.

Today is the first day of the rest of your life.

What necessity is there to dwell on the Past, when the Present is so much surer - the Future so much brighter?

HUMANKIND

2.1. ABOUT THE HUMANKIND

The immortality of animals is in offspring, it is in glory, merits and deeds for a man.

To be a human is to feel your own responsibility. Feel shame before poverty which, it would seem, does not depend on you. Recognize that by laying your brick you help building the world.

In fact, to be a human is to be a human within a humankind.

To be a human or not to be depends solely on ourselves.

Suggestions of conscience in connection with repentance and a sense of duty are the most important differences between a man and an animal.

The main thing in a person is not the mind, but what controls it: character, heart, good feelings, innovative ideas.

Among all animals, a lion is said to be higher in rank, and a donkey is lower, but a donkey carrying its weight is truly better than a lion that tears people apart.

A worthy person is not the one without shortcomings, but the one who has virtues.

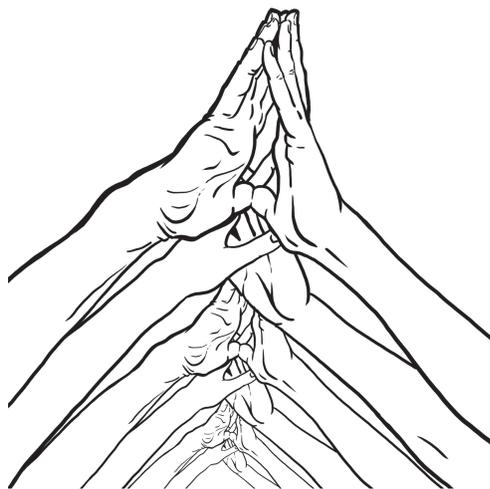

The soul of an animal is submissive to instincts and needs, whereas a human is the first creature liberated by the Creator. A person is the one who has scales where he weighs good and evil, truth and lies. He is the one who can search and choose.

Animals differ from humans in the absence of technicality and sadism.

Each person is a small planet - it is unknown where it is carried ...

Just as a soul without a body won't be called a man, a body without a soul as well.

We are not cattle to be fed, and when one poor Pascal appears, it is incomparably more important than the birth of a dozen prosperous insignificants.

We are a unique experiment of nature in which rational intelligence must prove that it is stronger than a reflex.

A human science is the science of thinkers.

Society is not a mutual help, but a distribution of responsibilities.

If I were the only inhabitant on Earth, my possession of it would not bring me joy. I would have no worries, no pleasures, no desires, even wealth and glory would turn into empty words, for we will not deceive ourselves – we are indebted to other people for all our pleasures, other things are not important to consider.

Racism is a snobbery of the poor.

The best person is the one who lives mainly with his own thoughts and other people's feelings, and the worst kind of person, then, who lives with other people's thoughts and his own feelings.

A superman is a premature ideal, since it assumes existence of a man.

Self-control ability is the main difference between a man and a beast.

What is present in a person is undoubtedly much more important than what a person has.

The value of a grain is estimated by its productivity, the value of a person can be determined by usefulness they bring

The value of a man is in those few things that he or she has created, but not in a vast property that he or she has accumulated.

A man is only a game of chance.

A man is not a statistical centre of the world, as he believed for a long time, but the axis and peak of evolution, which is much more beautiful.

A man is a rational being, but this does not apply to the humankind.

A man is a susceptible, sensible, rational and reasonable creature, striving for self-preservation and happiness.

Man is a rope, tied between beast and overman – a rope over an abyss.

A man is a rational monkey.

A man is a mortal God.

A man is nothing but a series of his deeds.

A man is a being that can adapt to everything.

A man is neither an angel nor an animal, and his misfortune is that the more he seeks to become like an angel, the more he turns into an animal.

A man rose above the world of all living things primarily because the misfortune of others became his personal misery.

Man, the more you managed to give, the greater your price is.

A man can be called a reasonable rather than a rational being.

The humankind is the immortality of a mortal man.

The humankind is not a herd of horses which we must feed, but a club in which we must enroll.

You're a shit without a paper sheet, whereas with it you are a person. [About importance of certificates and other documents.]

God is easier to meet here than a man. [About Rome in antiquity.]

Ultimately, people are equal to each other, but not always, not everywhere and not in everything.

In our understanding, a good person is primarily a convenient person.

The humankind has gone a long and thorny path from a primitive herd to a modern crowd.

A Jew is the same as every other person, only to a greater extent.

The zoo is a rare place where you can feel like a man.

Once upon a time, a dark and shaggy beast, having lost its mind, woke up as a man, the most dangerous and worst of the animals with an insane logic and driven by faith ...

A horse is our first step to the superman.

A hand has five fingers and a fist!

Sport is the only way to preserve the qualities of a primitive man in a person.

A man is the greatest animal in the world.

A man begins only from a baron.

The fact that a parrot can speak does not make him look like a person, it should try to learn telling lies.

2.2. IS THERE ANY LOGIC?

Ninety-five percent of people who walk the earth are simply inert. One percent are saints, and one percent are assholes. The other three percent are people who do what they say they can do.

For now, a man is neither a slave nor a lord, not being excited but blinded by himself.

A person can do without many things, except for another person.

The majority is created by chance, and the minority is formed consciously.

The humankind includes more dead than living things - it is formed from those who no longer continue to live among us, though still exist in ideas, deeds and their own example.

We all inherited too much from qualities of those who gave us life, and from zest that prevails in blood of our dynasty.

All societies are similar to each other, like cows in a herd, though some horns are gilded.

Any society is based on the aristocracy, as the essence of aristocracy consists in a demand for itself, and without such a demand, a society perishes.

A valiant person is ready to give his or her life for glory, a vain person is desperately fighting for power, and commoners are satisfied with their lives.

The only thing people really have in common is that they are all going to die.

All animals are patiently grazing within the enclosures of nature, while man only broke out, and strayed beyond those safer limits, which he was justly confined to.

Some people seemingly lose their look and significance once they are separated from people, things, and all that served as an enclosure for them.

Each person is always someone's child.

People are of three types: motionless, mobile, and those who move them.

People can be classified into three genera: people kinda food - others cannot live without, people kinda medicine needed from time to time, and people kinda disease that noone ever needs.

Together, people can carry out what they cannot do alone, the unity of minds and hands, the concentration of their strengths can become almost omnipotent.

People are alike to sheep who do not want to obey separately, but altogether they tamely follow the shepherds.

The world rests on people who do more than they should.

We did not choose either the country where we were born or the nationality, or the time, but we do choose one thing: to be humans or savages.

We are a society of mostly weak non-aggressive and submissive people. People who are strong and rebellious were eliminated in wars and hierarchical struggle.

We are like colored ink in a picture, like grains of sand, and when the wind blows, we disappear immediately.

Science has made gods from us before we've learned to be humans.

It is not a body, but a spirit that makes a human.

Society is alike to space, it is not (and cannot be) an intermediate thing through which individuals interact with each other. Individuals create human history, but not societies.

A person is weak, like an abandoned Robinson, he or she can do much only in cooperation with others.

The desire to start all over again is a distinctive property of any person.

Let people value themselves as high as they like, their true value is not higher than their estimation made by others.

The death of a man is a tragedy. Hundreds of thousands of deaths: that is a statistic.

Contemporaries value a man rather than his merits, future generations will value the merits rather than the man.

There is a perfect ant, a perfect bee, but a man is imperfect. Due to incurable imperfection, he remains immature forever, having the opportunity to learn and grow.

There are three kinds of people: those who see, those who see when shown, and those who do not see.

Now, when we have learned to fly through the air like birds, swim underwater like fish, we need one thing only, this is to learn how to live on earth like people.

A man is organized very strangely - he is upset when he loses wealth, and he is indifferent to the fact that the days of his life irrevocably pass.

We were made spiritual barbarians due to Christianity, and science made us intellectual barbarians.

A man is his own Prometheus.

A person outside society is either a god or a beast.

Man is a social being by nature.

A man, unlike an animal, cannot survive by comparing his actions with the current moment only. A person needs to set goals, he must plan for his actions and design his life.

A man, as we know him, is a miserable creature, but he has gone halfway from a monkey to God and continues moving in the right direction.

A person is like a world in the mirror, it has a hundred faces. It's small and it's immensely large!

Human nature is the same everywhere.

The humankind always creeps like crayfishes in a basket, doubting, seeking and not understanding the valuable essence of their aspirations.

The humankind can be divided into two huge classes: hosts and guests.

A belly is the reason why it is not so easy for a man to think of himself as of God.

The whole world is a theatre, but the troupe is worthless.

A doctor sees all men's weakness, a lawyer sees all meanness, theologian sees all stupidity.

All the people came from monkeys, some earlier, some later.

All the people are equal, but some people are more equal than others.

In this world there are things you still can rely on. For example, there has never been any advertising clip with a bad ending.

If a person acts like a pig, he says, "Have mercy, I'm just a man!" But if someone acts like a pig with him, he exclaims, "Excuse me, I'm a person!"

How can the human race survive if the cost of living has reached ten dollars per bottle?

People will mine to hell, reaching the greatest sulfur deposits.

You can trust a person starting from a certain sum of money.

Desperate attempts of a person to hide from others led him to the fact that the whole planet is now populated.

By separating a man from a monkey we obtained a zoo and a circus.

A person is beautiful, but people are pigs.

The humankind, as it turned out, is not able to solve any of its problems, but it is able to survive all of them.

To join the crowd, it is not necessary to go outside at all, it can be made from home simply by switching the Internet.

2.3. DARK SIDE OF THE HUMANKIND

Most people are stupid, and everyone plays tricks in his or her own way.

Most people live like mad and die like fools.

Every century has got its own pox.

Nowadays people know the price of everything, and the value of nothing.

In a crowd, stupidity accumulation may happen only, but not an intelligence accumulation.

Everyone has a royal soul inside, everyone wants everything to be allowed to him, but does not want to be a victim of other people's outrage.

After returning from Olympia, Diogenes replied to somebody's question whether there was a great crowd, "Yes," he said, "a great crowd, but few who could be called men."

Everybody makes a parade of social progress, but nobody makes progress and improves his or her skills individually.

If other people's misfortune makes you indifferent, and you do not have a mercy, you cannot be called a human.

Women and young men are only able to appreciate those to whom they feel affection.

A life focused on self-preservation only is not a human life.

As it usually happens, the majority of senators have triumphed over the wisest.

A horrible trait of our civilization is that its material progress is much more substantial than the cultural one. The balance is destroyed.

When superstition penetrates people's heads, it leaves behind a stock of stupidities for many centuries.

When someone wants to make people good and wise, tolerant and noble, he or she will inevitably come to the desire of killing all of them. Robespierre believed in virtue – he created terror. Marat believed in justice – he demanded two hundred thousand heads.

People are mainly united by prejudice, and they are bothered about passion only, and it often blights and distorts the noblest goal.

People are alike to porcupines walking on an icy snowy desert: they cuddle up to each other because of cold and fear, and stick each other with their quills.

There are a few people who would always be worthy of being called people. We left the caves, but the cave didn't leave us.

We live in the world where a fool creates many fools, and a wise creates very few wise men.

We lie to each other every day, dress up in other people's clothes and make stories about ourselves to look better in each other's eyes.

Our world is like a Noah's ark: a bunch of people and lots of cattle.

There are no gloomy times, there are only gloomy people.

The ignorance is the greatest disease of humankind.

Nowadays people were born to censure. They can see only a heel from the whole Achilles.

One can make this generalization about men: they are ungrateful, fickle, liars and deceivers, they shun danger and are greedy for profit.

Only slickers know how to gain attention of gapers.

The danger of the past is that people were enslaved. The danger of the future is that people can become robots.

Personal spirit dies in an impersonal technocratic mind, a person loses the most important thing – the unique personality. He or she can be freely and painlessly replaced by any other person with the same level of standardization.

As a machine becomes more and more like a person, a person becomes more and more like a machine.

Birds are caught with the help of nets, people are caught with the help of money.

A drunkard is not a man, for he has lost what distinguishes people from cattle. He has lost his reason.

This world contradicts the bright minds, and the wise heads are terrified of it.

Live for yourself and you will live in vain.

Only a mean person will offend others on the ground of national origin.

Traditions of all dead generations hang like a nightmare over the minds of the living.

The worst people are the majority everywhere.

Civilization is progressing, a person is degrading.

A civilized society resembles a child that received too many toys for his birthday.

A man has stopped being a slave to another man, but became a slave to things.

Human beings are insatiable and ungrateful creatures.

The majority of humankind is a collection of mean and selfish creatures, standing higher than animals in their egoism which is more meaningful.

What is a human being if he just eats and sleeps? Nothing more than a beast.

I cannot stand the humankind because I consider myself as one of the best of its representatives, and I know how bad I am.

Inhumanity is the most characteristic feature of a man.

People make their ways in life and become cattle. How humanly it is!

Don't start to make you coat when it begins to rain.

Shout, "Thief!" and everyone will look around. Shout, "Man!" and nobody will bat an eye.

Wherever a person goes, wherever he hides, people will surely find him, impose their habits on him and, wherever possible, society.

We live in a society where pizza arrives faster than an ambulance service.

We are probably a missing link in the chain between animals and a real human.

Nothing characterizes people better than a situation when a guy appears from nowhere, does everything necessary, and then is sharply criticized for his work.

Cannibals' justification is that people are cattle.

As long as beauty is going to save the world, morons will destroy it.

The worst crowd one could think of is a crowd consisting solely of acquaintances.

According to authoritative sources, the commandment to multiply and replenish was given when the population of the Earth consisted of only two people.

Man really looks like a monkey: the higher he climbs, the more he shows his ass.

Man with man. And no man!

A man who calls things as they are should stay at home not to be beaten as an enemy of society.

2.4. BE PREPARED

Is wine guilty that a man drinks it? You have committed an offense - what does your age have to do with it? You should not blame your age for your own deeds, as it hasn't done any evil for me and for you!

All other requirements are not important in comparison to the main requirement that each person should live without burdening and harming others.

Two things make us incomparable: life for the good of the people and honesty.

Kindness and modesty are two qualities that should never make people feel bored.

It is the duty of man to work and turn the earth into heaven.

The only remedy for superstition is knowledge. Nothing else can wipe out that plague-spot of the human mind.

Nobody can change, but everyone can become a better person.

Have a heart, have a soul, and you will be a man at all times.

The best person is the one who loves everyone and does good to everyone indiscriminately.

People leave, examples remain.

Peace, happiness, brotherhood of people – that's what we need in this world!

Do not look at where a person was born, but do look at his or her manners. Do not look at a place where he decided to live, but do look at principles he decided to use for his living.

Appreciation and censure – that is what I call human inclinations.

Those who kill the essence of a dog in themselves comprehend a human's path.

A statue is estimated by its appearance, and a person by his or her deeds.

Good people will bring you happiness, bad people will reward you with experience, the worst people will give you a lesson, and the best people will give you memories. Appreciate all of them.

Let him who would move the world first move himself.

Why should we hate each other? We are all in one situation, sharing the same planet, a crew of the same ship.

A person becomes higher because he reaches up.

I am not for ours and not for those, I am for humanity.

I am first a man and only then a Frenchman.

Be more tolerant to a man, bearing in mind a primitive epoch he was created in.

If you notice that you are on the side of the majority, this is a sure sign that it is time to change.

Love humanity as much as you want, but don't demand reciprocity.

The world will probably not be saved, but an individual can always be.

One has to look out for engineers – they begin with the sewing machine and end up with the atomic bomb.

A human being should be able to change a diaper, plan an invasion, butcher a hog, conn a ship, design a building, write a sonnet, balance accounts, build a wall, set a bone, comfort the dying, take orders, give orders, cooperate, act alone, solve equations, analyze a new problem, pitch manure, program a computer, cook a tasty meal, fight efficiently, die gallantly. Specialization is for insects.

To make angels out of people, the latter should be sent to heaven.

LADIES AND MEN

3.1.1. ABOUT WOMEN

A flattery is, for all the women, the softest pillow men can offer.

For a woman, not to be loved is a misfortune, never to love is a tragedy.

For a smart woman, men are not a problem; for a smart woman, men are the solution.

A virtuous woman usually says "no", a passionate woman says "yes", a fanciful woman says "yes, but no", a coquette says "neither yes nor no".

There are only three things in the world that women do not understand; and they are Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity.

She had a womanly instinct that clothes possess an influence more powerful over many than the worth of character or the magic of manners.

A woman is a nail on which a wit hangs his jokes, a preacher hangs his teachings, a cynic hangs grumbling, and a sinner hangs justification.

A woman is forced to choose from those who chose her.

A woman, even in happiness, has a penchant for flirting.

A woman can be beautiful, smart, and kind. Though, it is not about the same one.

A woman silently suffers from a fact that she has nobody to talk to.

A woman in the wild is a pack animal, in the East she is a furniture, and among Europeans, a spoiled child.

A woman reigns, but does not rule.

A woman, who knows that she is well dressed, finds peace of mind, which she would have sought in vain in science, philosophy and religion.

In order to be successful in life, a woman should have these two qualities. She must be smart enough so that a stupid man can love her, and stupid enough so that a smart man loves her as well.

The most beautiful makeup of a woman is passion. But cosmetics are easier to buy.

The indifference of men, far more than their tyranny, is the torment of women.

Women step back because of carelessness only - they underestimate the extreme danger of their sensitivity.

An ideal for any girl, whatever her education, consists in attracting as many men as possible, as many males as possible, to have an opportunity to choose.

An ideal for a fashionable lady is an absolute importance.

A woman has the age she deserves.

A coquette is a girl who offers herself without any intention of surrendering.

Coquettes know how to please, not love, and that is why men love them so much.

Coquetry is an art of taking the first step so that it would seem to a man that he did it.

Beauty becomes a problem for a woman only in two cases: when there is no beauty, and when there is nothing but beauty.

The wisdom of a woman is not philosophizing but feeling.

Finding a husband is an art, keeping him is a profession.

An independent woman is a woman who has not found anyone who would like to depend on her.

A fickle woman is the one who no longer loves, a frivolous woman fancies someone else, a skittish woman does not know if she loves and whom she loves, an indifferent woman loves nobody.

When going to a theatre, there are no women who would not have hoped that they would also be a bit of a sight to behold.

From birth to age 18, a girl needs good parents. From 18 to 35, she needs good looks. From 35 to 55, she needs a good personality. From 55 on, she needs good cash.

By denying her weakness, a woman loses her feminine charm.

The loneliest woman in the world is the one who does not have a close friend.

The most difficult task for a woman is to prove her man the seriousness of his intentions.

Tears are women's eloquence.

The resistance of a woman is not always a proof of her virtue, but more frequently of her experience.

A happy woman is the one who has neither worries nor anxieties; a pleasant woman is the one who has worries and anxieties, but she does not allow them to defeat herself.

Everything is heart in women, even the head.

Frivolity is still what is most serious in women.

The kingdom of a woman is a kingdom of tenderness, subtlety, and tolerance.

A selfish woman believes that men were created for her, an altruist believes that she was created for men.

If a woman quickly surrendered to a man, this is not his merit, but a merit of all those she had before.

There are women who look at religion, philosophy, art as at toilet articles, in which they dress up, thinking it suits them.

A woman does not go to extremes, she lives there.

A woman wins, like an advertisement, by repeating the same thing.

A woman needs to fall in love with a bad man once or twice in order to be grateful for a good one.

Women agree with logic until it seems dangerous to them.

What is it called when a blonde dyes her hair black? Artificial intelligence.

Cosmetics is the science of a woman's cosmos.

Actually, the "Beauty and the Beast" is a story about split personality.

The purpose of a woman is to bring her husband to paradise on her own back.

Why are all fools such women?

Beauty salon: a workshop for women's perfection.

I was crazy about him, and now I can't even look at him. How inconsistent these men are!

3.1.2. WOMEN'S LOGIC THROUGH THE EYES OF MEN

Faithful women are all alike, they think only of their fidelity, never of their husbands.

For a woman's health, men's delighted looks are more important than calories and medicine.

A woman learns to hate to the extent that she unlearns how to charm.

A woman does not see beyond love, and her nature does not go beyond love.

A woman is extremely prone to slavery, and at the same time she is prone to enslave.

A woman is weakest when she loves, and the strongest when she is loved.

A woman is as old as she looks.

A woman finds those men clever who share her opinion.

Women, for the most part, are so indifferent to friendship as it seems tasteless to them compared to love.

When solving a problem, women always consider personalities, and principles are taken from their own preferences.

Women are never as strong as when they are armed with weakness.

Women disregard those who love them and love those who neglect them.

Women, asking questions, require not answers, but attention.

Every woman considers herself irreplaceable and believes that she can easily replace any other.

When a woman is bright, she is often also noisy.

Beautiful women die twice.

A woman will not be calm with a man she loves. A woman will not be happy with a man she does not love.

One woman's look at another resembles customs baggage control.

Women, as harmful food additives, constantly use dyes, flavors and preservatives.

Every woman desires to have a narrow waist, but to live on a grand scale.

On one sandwich and two compliments, a woman can hold out all day.

Upon a severe fright, a small part of women's brain responsible for everything atrophies.

The smaller woman's breasts, the more intelligent she is. But nobody knows why it is so.

I think, therefore, I am not married.

3.1.3. NOT INFALLIBLE

For the most part, the main female ambition is to please and to be loved.

A woman loves when somebody pulls the wool over her eyes, and the more they pull, the wider she opens her eyes so that more wool is put over them.

A woman hardly sees what a man does for her, but she sees very clearly what he does not do.

A woman is more likely to forgive an undeserved offense than a fair criticism.

A cheerful woman becomes a refuge for her husband in moments of failure; complaining endlessly, she resembles a leaky roof through which water pours all the time. She does not harbor, but annoys.

A woman, who could wisely rule a state, immediately creates a gentleman for herself who cannot even control over the ten chickens.

Women swallow with one gulp the lie that flatters, and sip the bitter truth drop by drop.

An ideal wife should be a queen in society, a hostess in kitchen and a whore in bed. More often we have the hostess in bed, the queen in kitchen and the whore in society.

A hysterical woman dreams of a lord and a master she could command.

It is not difficult for today's women to behave like men, but they rarely manage to behave in a gentlemanly way.

Idleness killed more women than passion, vanity killed more than idleness, gullibility killed more than idleness and vanity altogether.

Outside a doll, inside the plague.

A woman is a crossword puzzle where nothing intersects.

A woman with one gallant thinks she is no coquette, she who has several thinks herself but a coquette.

Women, as a rule, choose their nightgown much more carefully than their husbands.

She belongs to those women who say, "I do not understand anything, but I must say ..."

With such forms, she bypassed the substance.

3.1.4. RECOMMENDATIONS TO WOMEN

Be beautiful if you can, virtuous, if you want, but being respected is a necessity.

There is only one happiness in this life, to love and be loved.

A child that wants to play is hidden in every real man. Up then, you women, and discover the child in man!

Having been handed the key from her heart, a man begins to think about changing the lock.

The main thing for a woman is to be pleasant and soft, calm and balanced.

Deficiency of real men is not a reason for clinging to freaks.

Kindness in women, not their beautiful looks, shall win my love.

If you are smart, you will be beautiful. There are no ugly women. Somebody is as beautiful as a rose, the other one as a cactus.

Femininity is the quality I admire most in women.

Women, do not be afraid of mice, be afraid of cats!

A true woman is not bothered but bothers.

A true woman is like champagne – easy to communicate, always smiling, unpredictable and sensitive.

Handsome men love nobody as much as their own reflection in the mirror.

Men's love does not tolerate verbosity – the brighter the flame, the more transparent the smoke.

Any man is like a cat: try to catch him, he will run away; but if you sit quietly without paying any attention, he will settle down at your feet and purr.

Do not tell him: "You are the first whom I love." Better say: "I did not know what it means to be happy until I met you." A man will always believe this.

Never run for a bus, train or man. When one leaves, another arrives.

The first and the most important quality of a woman is meekness.

The worst enemy of a beautiful woman is her mirror, then, her enemies are her ears: the first destroys her mind, the second, her heart.

From this moment, the slogan of women should be: "Self-development is more important than self-sacrifice!"

Women have only one opportunity to be beautiful, but there are one hundred thousand opportunities to be attractive.

We, the women have only two weapons: mascara and tears – but we cannot use both at the same time.

Run away if you want to be loved.

Women should display their beauty by modestly, decency and shyness, not by gold, emeralds and purple dye.

Compliments are used to evaluate men for an intelligent woman, for a dumb dame they are used for self-esteem.

Personal care should begin with the heart, otherwise no makeup will help.

If you want to seduce a man, flatter him.

Elegance reflects the individuality of a woman, and this is more than beauty.

I am no longer looking for a prince because I am not a princess.

I do not wish women to have power over men, but over themselves.

A girl who knows how to cook can find a man who knows how to eat.

If you cannot choose one of the two men, then choose the second one, as if you really loved the first one, the second would not have appeared in your life.

The best way to get a man to do something is to suggest he's too old for it.

A man should be accepted as he is. But leaving him in such a way is unacceptable.

Man is already half in love with every woman who listens as he speaks.

There are no ugly women, only lazy ones.

There is no point in arguing with men - they are never right anyway.

Outright stupidity can be irresistible in women.

A decent girl does not run after boys: did anyone see a mousetrap running after mice?

Powder at least what is impossible to hide.

To keep a husband, make him jealous a little; to lose a husband, make him jealous a little bit more.

3.2.1. APPAREL AND FASHION

It is only shallow people who do not judge by appearances.

If a woman cannot decide what to wear, this is a sure sign that a man is involved.

If fashion has become common, it means that it has become obsolete.

There are Baroque style people: lots of beautiful details, bad taste in general.

Women's fashion has always been the most expensive way to pack.

A woman dresses to be undressed.

Women believe that they dress up for men or for their own pleasure, but in fact, they dress up for each other.

Women are attached to fashion because novelty is always a reflection of youth.

Manicure is an advertisement, pedicure is a pleasant surprise.

Fashion goes out of fashion, style never does.

Fashion exists for women who lack taste.

Fashion can be bought. Style one must possess.

Those who have not the desire to attract are devoid of elegance and taste.

A little bad taste is like a nice splash of paprika. We all need a splash of bad taste - it's hearty, it's healthy, it's physical.

Apparel is a signal you give to the world. The way you feel is seen from your clothes.

There's no such thing as bad weather, only unsuitable clothing.

The most important thing in a dress is a woman who wears it.

The secret of elegance is to wear a mink coat like an ordinary coat, and an ordinary coat, like a mink coat.

Too tight dress proves that the person who wears it is a woman. And moreover, that she is not a lady.

Whoever has "style" does not care about the concept of "fashion".

To prevent content from being boring, packaging should be changed more often. Therefore, women happily obey fashion.

High heels were invented by a woman who had been kissed on the forehead.

If losing gloves, then better both of them, less sadness.

A woman wants to dress like others, and suffers if she is really dressed like others.

When a woman says that she has nothing to wear, it means that there are no new clothes left; when a man says so, it means that there are no clean clothes left.

There is nothing more durable than an everlasting suit.

The most gorgeous woman is Gucci's wife, she even has children from Gucci.

There is a legend of women who know what they will put on when opening their wardrobe.

I have the simplest tastes. I am always satisfied with the best.

3.2.2. TAKE ADVICE ON BOARD

Being fashionable is risky. You are in danger of becoming old-fashioned suddenly and unexpected.

Decollete is another form of matter conservation.

The one who is always busy with fashion will beckon to fools only.

Beware originality; in women's fashion, originality can lead to a masquerade.

Your dresses should be tight enough to show you're a woman and loose enough to show you're a lady.

Never forget that wearing a fur is wearing a cemetery on your back.

In pursuit of fashion, the main thing is to keep up with the crowd.

Military uniform is practical, simple, cheap, and never goes out of fashion.

3.3.1. MEN'S KNOWLEDGE OF WOMEN

Intimacy with a woman is delightful, but her presence is unbearable.

A divinely beautiful girl often has a devilish character.

Most women give up not because of their great passion, but because of their great weakness. That is why initiative men are usually successful.

Men respect women's virtues, but fall in love with vices.

Contrary to popular opinion, the hardest thing is to conquer a stupid woman as nothing impresses her.

If a woman wants to refuse, she says no. If a woman starts explaining, she wants to be persuaded.

There is a difference between beauty and charm. A beautiful woman is the one I notice. A charming woman is the one who notices me.

A woman is like a fortress. One can be captured after the first assault, the other, after a long siege, and the third one, after negotiations.

A woman is an apple and a snake at the same time.

A woman is not a metal furniture, she is a flower. She does not want businesslike manners. She needs sunny and sweet words.

A woman is an invitation to happiness.

Woman reduces us all to a common denominator.

A woman is a reflection of her husband's love.

A woman who does not love the shortcomings of her husband does not love him either.

A woman considered cold by everyone has not yet met a man who would awaken love in her.

Women are the difficulties men like to struggle with.

Women are very stupid only because they were very beautiful in their youth.

Women deprive of liberty those only who do not know what to do with it.

Women love not heroes, but winners.

Women do not like timid men. Cats do not like cautious rats.

A man in love with a woman is never considered by her as being smart.

Women treat us (men) like humanity treats gods - they worship us and keep bothering us to do something.

Women are created by our desires. Therefore, they are so welcome.

Women are meant to be loved, not to be understood.

Women, like dreams, they are never what you want them to be.

Rape is the biggest insult to a woman, "crazy" is the best compliment from her.

Every woman dreams of a man who will make decisions for her.

No matter how happy a woman is in her marriage, she will always be pleased if any glorious man has a doubt about it.

As soon as a conversation with a woman comes about her beauty, no flattery seems rude to her.

As is the mother, so is her daughter.

Cosmetics are the war paint for women.

A beautiful woman is a heaven for eyes, hell for the soul and purgatory for the pocket.

A beautiful woman pleases the eye, a good woman pleases the heart; the first is a jewel, the second is a treasure.

Attire - the preface to the woman, and sometimes the whole book.

Some women are not beautiful at all, but look like that only.

One and the same woman can be a goddess for a teenager, a temptation for a married man and just a threat to a bachelor.

A woman was hidden under angelic features.

A woman flirts until she falls in love.

You will not feel bored with women - they do not want to, they are not able to, and they always keep you amused.

A woman has two ages: before applying cosmetics and after it.

Being successful with women is usually a sign of mediocrity.

Women are unique, but hussies are the same.

Women who are not venal are the most expensive.

If you speak evil of all the women, they rebel against it; if you say bad things about each separately, they agree.

Women's eyes are not a mirror, but an optical sight.

A woman is like a guitar. It's hard to set up, and easy to upset.

Women are alike to slow-witted and stupid cattle, but they are funny and sweet. They season and sweeten the dreary importance of a man's mind with their stupidity.

Women somehow immediately guess who we're ready to change them for. Sometimes, even before it comes to mind.

It is easier to ask an old man when he will die rather than a woman when she was born.

Today's women hide weight, not age.

She was beautiful like the other man's wife.

It is not difficult to make a woman happy, it is difficult to remain happy therewith.

A beautiful woman always has a beautiful name.

I call my wife "dear" most often, she's a "bunny" a little lesser and "bitch" even less.

The more you give a woman, the more she lacks.

What is the difference between a girl and a woman: to reach an agreement with a girl, she must be persuaded, and with a woman you may agree through negotiation.

3.3.2. WHETHER THEY KNOW BETTER

Insensibility in women is sometimes considered as modesty, stupidity is thought to be girlish restraint, utter emptiness is found as a cute shyness – in a word, a goose is often taken for a swan.

Woman's handbag is a tomb for man's illusions.

And, indeed, a woman's caresses scare away the Muse, and break down the sturdy, brutal resolution of the worker.

A woman's charm is fifty percent illusion.

A woman is a cemetery of a man's ambitions.

Women evoke the worst instincts in men: passion for possession and social status, desire for greater earnings and quietness.

A beautiful woman is a well-polished glass that will fade from the slightest blow.

Beauty is a gift for a couple of years.

A man can sleep with so many women, and there's quite a few to talk to.

The search for spiritual connection with a woman is the most fruitless waste of energy.

Attractive women distract.

You do not know peace with bad women, but with good women you become bored.

Like a gold ring in a pig's snout is a beautiful woman who shows no discretion.

A woman can make any man a millionaire, if he is a billionaire.

Women are alike to poisonous snakes: the older and uglier, the more harmless.

A man understands nothing in women if he hadn't dealt much with whores.

In order to look good, women use such tricks for which a used car dealer would be sent to prison.

3.3.3. TRY TO PUT IT INTO PRACTICE

An "ideal woman" in reality is the same abstraction as an "ideal fluid" in physics.

What is the secret of my success with women? With a maidservant I behave as with a lady, and with a lady I behave as if it is a maid.

Always tell a woman that she is not like others if you want to receive the same as from others.

Every woman likes to be loved.

You'll never enjoy women if you try to understand them.

Choose: either to love a woman or to understand her.

The expression a woman wears on her face is far more important than the clothes she wears on her back.

Girls need to be promised the whole world. And buy them ice cream.

If you are not around when a woman feels bad, then do not come when she is fine.

When carried in arms all the time, a woman gets out of hands.

If you tell a girl that she is beautiful, then she will probably accept all your other lies as truth.

If you want a woman to continue loving you, try to convince her that you are in awe of her beauty. If she is in a red dress, praise red dress. If she comes in a shirt, yell, "You are killing me!"

A woman rarely forgives jealousy to a man and never forgives the absence of jealousy.

Women are more likely to forgive great immodesty than a little infidelity.

A woman is a reflection of her man. She is beautiful if you treat her right. Look at your woman and understand who you are.

Never, never, never can a man make himself ridiculous in the eyes of a woman when he does something for her sake.

If you don't want to kiss a woman's hand, you shouldn't kiss her lips either.

Women do not mind being dearly loved, but they also want to be entertained - either of these alone wouldn't mean much.

Women extol male modesty, but do not like modest men.

When a woman is angry, do not look for common sense in her speeches!

A beautiful face is a mute recommendation.

Beauty without modesty is not beauty, but merely loveliness.

An insolent rooster is welcome by stupid chicks only.

Trust not too much to appearances.

No girl is as happy as she seems on Facebook, as sexy as she seems on Instagram, and as witty as she seems on Twitter.

A night with a woman is, of course, all night, but not the whole woman.

Just as fish should be measured without a head and a tail, women should be examined without their makeup and clothes.

A kiss is the best way to stop the fountain of female eloquence.

A good woman's arms round a man's neck is a lifebelt thrown out to him from heaven.

A laughing girl is already half seduced.

She is chaste when nobody has ever courted her.

A stone can be thrown at a woman in one case only: when this stone is precious.

The quickest way to get to know a woman is to go shopping with her.

Let the God save you from bad women, save yourself from the good ones!

If a man is looking for a woman who always looks good, knows how to maintain a conversation, is interested in politics, sings well and, at the same time, falls silent on demand, then he really needs not a woman, but a TV.

If you like a girl, come up and talk to her. And if not, just a slap in the face.

To find out a girl's faults, praise her to her girlfriends.

Every woman is wrong until she cries, and then she is right - instantly.

Bald men may flirt with short women.

Never say "I love you" to a woman. This is a formula of unconditional surrender in her eyes.

Never try to impress a woman because if you do, she'll expect you to keep up the standard for the rest of your life.

I am in favor of preserving the French habit of kissing the hands of ladies. After all, one must start somewhere.

3.4.1. ABOUT MEN

A car is a favorite toy of adult men.

The superior man blames himself. The inferior man blames others.

Gallantry is a coquetry of men.

A man's home may seem to be his castle on the outside, inside is more often his nursery.

Women make us poets, children make us philosophers.

The ideal man! Oh, the ideal man should talk to us as if we were goddesses, and treat us as if we were children.

It is easier to be a lover than a husband for the simple reason that it is more difficult to be witty every day than to say pretty things from time to time.

A man is a contradiction. The ebb and flow.

A man falls in love with his eyes and becomes disappointed with his ears.

A man deals with a woman as a chemist in his laboratory: he observes her incomprehensible processes which he himself initiates.

A man cannot live for love, but he can live for another person.

A man dreams of a woman not because he considers her mysterious, instead, he considers her mysterious in order to justify his dreams of her.

Defeat doesn't finish a man, quit does. A man is not finished when he's defeated. He's finished when he quits.

A man who has overcome a long-standing resistance of a woman values his own persistence the most rather than her virtue.

Men value what they give much more than what they receive.

Men love themselves through the eyes of women.

Men surrender their souls, as women do their bodies, in successive and carefully defended stages.

Apparently, men do not want to be free. They always tend to be somebody's slaves, to careers or women, for instance.

Men who speak badly about women usually have only one thing in mind.

Men cannot graduate until a woman breaks your heart. That is your diploma.

Nothing ages a man as much as spending his whole life with the same woman.

Man's focus has always been on, and will remain on, who he is, what he does, and how much he makes until he feels like he's achieved his mission.

Talent in a man is the same as beauty in a woman – just a promise. In order to be truly great, his heart and character must be equal to his talent.

The tragedy of men: some women are not to their liking, others, a hard nut to crack, and the rest are too expensive.

A bachelor establishes relationship with several girls at the same time not to tie the knot with the one.

Of the two conditions – marriage and celibacy – men prefer the average.

When a man feels bad, he is looking for a woman, and when he is fine, he is looking for the second one.

Old men act to women like impudent beggars, young men behave like they are humble and rich.

A man is a creature capable of waiting for a bite for three hours in a row and unable to wait fifteen minutes until his wife gets dressed.

The true man wants two things: danger and play. For that reason he wants woman, as the most dangerous plaything.

Stability sucks in. This is why a man is attracted to a woman.

First, God created the man. Then he created the woman. Then God felt sorry for the man, and gave him tobacco.

To conquer a woman, men think of wonderful lies. To leave a woman, men think of stupid and absurd lies.

For a long time I remain under impression I make on a woman.

3.4.2. NOT WITHOUT FLAWS

In the approach to woman as the spoil and handmaid of communal lust, the infinite degradation is expressed, in which man exists for himself.

A man in love is an awful sight.

Men value beauty more than intellect in women because there are more fools than blind people in this world.

It is characteristic of a child, not a man, to desire without measure.

A man being blind drunk starts looking as an ape.

Those who afford indecent joking with a woman nearby, either do not respect or do not love her.

A man who allows a woman to dominate over him is neither a man nor a woman, but simply nothing.

We are idiots. The little bit of freedom that the job has left us, we allow it to be gobbled up by women.

The ability to suffer is natural for people, and getting over suffering is appropriate for men.

In the old days, women were seen as a living source of happiness, for which physical pleasure can be forgotten, for now they are perceived as a physiological device for physical pleasure.

A man's jealousy is made up of selfishness driven to hell, self-love taken by surprise, and irritated vanity.

From a vast variety of men I knew, a good and worthwhile one is hard to find. There are either kind-hearted beggars or wealthy assholes.

When a man falls in love, he immediately becomes stupid.

If you do not have a woman, then someone has two of them.

It's a funny thing that when a man hasn't anything on earth to worry about, he goes off and gets married.

A boy becomes completely obnoxious when approaching fifty years old.

There is a huge difference between a civilized man and a savage, but you can not notice it before a man has his breakfast.

The only place men want depth in their women is in their décolletage.

Some people pay a compliment as if they expected a receipt.

3.4.3. TIP FOR MEN

Ascetics are well aware that the dreams that women instigate are more seductive than the real charms they are endowed with.

A morally noble man has a firm constancy and yet is not stubborn.

In youth, beware of the passion for women; at maturity, beware of rivalry; in old age, beware of stinginess.

From the moment that women become your fellows, they will become your masters.

Love your wives, but grant them no power over you.

A woman should soften but not weaken a man.

Each father of the family should be a master at home, and not in the neighbouring house.

What a man should be: he should not follow others, he should be calm in his soul, he should not feel sorrow.

Those who have experienced much, those have learned much; lazy and idle people do not know what is hidden in them and what they are capable of.

Caution: the weaker sex.

The first in the list of qualities of a real man, of course, should be the line "Do what you promised."

Respect for women is a duty that every honest man must obey from birth.

I like men to behave like men. I like them strong and childish.

A woman brought a man out of paradise, and only a woman can return him to paradise.

A suit, a hat, a decent work and loneliness - that's what really makes a man handsome.

Do not look for women. Look for money and women themselves will find you.

One awkward movement - and you are a father.

To get a woman, tell her that you are an impotent. She will certainly check it out.

3.5.1. GENDER DIFFERENCE

Neatness of a woman is recognized by her bathroom, dignity of a man, by his handshake.

Most men love flattery because of a modest opinion of themselves, most women - for the opposite reason.

In the sex war, thoughtlessness is the weapon of the male, vindictiveness of the female.

A woman's loyalty is tested when her man has nothing. A man's loyalty is tested when he has everything.

An adult woman is a polygamous creature by her physiology, while being emotionally monogamous; whereas an adult man is an emotionally polygamous creature, but monogamous in physiological basis.

Instead of this absurd division into sexes, they ought to class people as static and dynamic.

For a man there is nothing more offensive than calling him a fool, for a woman - to say that she is ugly.

Women are never disarmed by compliments. Men always are. That is the difference between the sexes.

Women like promises, men like hopes.

Women cheat to hide their feelings, men cheat to show feelings that do not exist.

Women represent the triumph of matter over mind, just as men represent the triumph of mind over morals.

You now know what a woman's curiosity is. Almost as great as a man's!

With fire we test gold, and with gold we test women, and with women we test men.

Beauty is the wealth of a woman. Wealth is the beauty of a man.

A man's face is his autobiography. A woman's face is her work of fiction.

The silence of a man is a sign of rejection, the silence of a woman is a sign of consent.

Men should be accepted as they are, and women, as they would like to be.

A man is a creature that tries to think more to work less. A woman is a creature who tries to work harder to think less.

A man is as good as he has to be, and a woman as bad as she dares.

A man can keep another's secret better than his own. A woman keeps her own better than others.

A man becomes evil in two cases: when he is hungry and when he is humbled, and a woman only in one, when she does not have love.

A man is as old as he feels, a woman is as old as she looks.

Men say about women whatever they want. Women do with men whatever they want.

Men love with their eyes, women love with their ears.

Men pay attention to what people think about them, a thing that matters for women is what people say about them.

Men at most differ as Heaven and Earth, but women, worst and best, as Heaven and Hell.

Men buy comfortable things, sincerely believing that they also look irresistible in them. Women buy uncomfortable things, hoping that they look irresistible in them.

Men are able to hate, women are only disgusted. The latter is much worse.

A man appreciates beauty in a woman, a woman appreciates a connoisseur of beauty.

There are more naive men than naive women.

The age of a man can be judged by what he says; about a woman's age - according to what they say about her.

It is a woman's business to get married as soon as possible, and a man's to keep unmarried as long as he can.

Women, as they grow older, rely more and more on cosmetics. Men, as they grow older, rely more and more on a sense of humor.

Women's irritability is a sign of femininity deficiency, men's irritability resembles lack of male spirituality.

Men have such exaggerated ideas of their merits as women have about their shortcomings.

Men have age, and women - only birthdays.

Everything is balanced in life: women are easy to fall, and men are heavy to lift.

Hail to the man! If desired, he can achieve everything in the world. Hail to the woman! If desired, she can get any man.

Women have an illegal advantage over men: where the reason is weak, they can use stupidity.

Women are capable of everything, men are capable of the rest.

No matter how badly men think of women, any woman thinks of them even worse.

Cosmetics rejuvenate a woman, shaving - a man. But the stairs betray everyone.

Who knows women, pity men; but one who knows men is ready to excuse women.

A man who has to take any decisive step thinks, "What shall I say?" and a woman, "How shall I get dressed?"

Men are always right, and women are never wrong.

The most intolerable people are men who consider themselves geniuses and women who think they are fascinating.

What passes for woman's intuition is often nothing more than man's transparency.
